Plants, fences obstructing views are threat to motorists

Sometimes the biggest threat to a motorist isn't what's on the roadway, but what's off of it.

The threat can be tall or short. It can be living or inanimate. From trees to bushes to signs to fences, it's whatever obstructs the view of oncoming traffic, and Augusta has its own set of ordinances to combat the problem.

"It's for the safety of the citizens,"

According to city code, the Traffic Engineering Division is responsible for identifying nuisance trees and shrubs and notifying the owner that their property may be in violation.

I will pass this sarcastic remark to the residents. Please think before you talk, its TOWN PROPERTY, and has been complained about since 2018!
