Angie Carpenter: I can't back Garbarino for Islip GOP leader

Updated June 16, 2016 7:19 PM

Islip Supervisor Angie Carpenter, citing the need for party stability, says she “cannot support” the election of acting town GOP leader William Garbarino as the next chairman because he represents clients as an attorney before the town.

“We need a chairman who does not bring business before the board, thereby creating the appearance of a conflict of interest,” said Carpenter in a letter to the town’s nearly 300 committee members. “There is no place in the 21st century government for even a hint of impropriety, especially in these troubled times.”

did she really say that!

Carpenter was joined in signing the letter by her GOP town board majority, John Cochrane Jr. and Steve Flotteron.

She said she wants to return to the era when Peter Fox Cohalan, Michael LoGrande and Frank Jones were supervisors and worked cooperatively with late Islip GOP chairman Anthony Pace to keep politics and government largely separate. relative to the now runaway town attorney

Instead of Garbarino, Carpenter said she could support Joseph Stassi, who was just deposed as the party’s second vice chair “for no reason,” as well as former Suffolk GOP chairman John Cochrane Sr., who has “instant credibility with other town leaders.” She also cited committee members Vinnie Sepe, Dom Letteri and Chris Giambrone, or Bill Mannix, the town industrial development agency head, as potential contenders who have the “right temperament and experience” to head the GOP committee.

Joe Stassi- was in a severe confrontation at MacArthur Airport where he cursed and called a worker there, the “C” word. They say power got to his head as vice chair.
