Islip Town employee charged in harassment promoted

February 27, 2014 by SARAH ARMAGHAN / sarah.armaghan@newsday.com In charge of recycling)

An Islip Town employee charged with harassing a town Democratic Party volunteer in November has been promoted to deputy commissioner of parks and recreation.

Christopher Cacoperdo, a nonunion employee, has worked for the town since 2003 and was most recently a recycling collection unit manager with the Islip Resource Recovery Agency, according to Inez Birbiglia, spokeswoman for the town. She said Cacoperdo was promoted to the deputy commissioner post by Parks and Recreation Commissioner Joseph Montouri on Monday. Birbiglia said the town board played no role in the promotion.

Cacoperdo is paid $70,000 a year and did not receive a raise, according to Birbiglia. Cacoperdo declined to comment.

On Nov. 2, three days before the general election, Cacoperdo, 46, of Bay Shore, was seen removing campaign signs at the Islip Town Democratic Committee headquarters on Sunrise Highway, according to Democratic Party volunteer James Brockwell, 61, of Holtsville.

According to the complaint filed by prosecutors in Suffolk County First District Court, Cacoperdo approached Brockwell in his vehicle at headquarters and said, "Don't get out of the car, Jimmy. I'm gonna hurt you really bad." Islip Town Democratic Committee chairman Gerry Pallotta was also in the car, Brockwell said in an interview.

Suffolk prosecutors charged Cacoperdo with second-degree harassment and he accepted an adjournment in contemplation of dismissal in January, according to the Suffolk County Court clerk's office. The case will be dismissed after six months, according to the terms of the adjournment, records show.

Islip Town Republican Committee chairman Frank Tantone is listed as Cacoperdo's privately retained attorney on court records.

"The matter has been dismissed. The district attorney's office investigated and felt there was nothing there to pursue," Tantone said. Tantone said he didn't know why Cacoperdo was at Democratic headquarters that morning. "We don't send our workers out to break the law," he said.

A one-year temporary order of protection barring Cacoperdo from contacting Brockwell was issued on Nov. 4, according to court documents. He is due back in court on July 17.

Mr. Peter J. Sidote 44 Robin Drive Hauppauge, NY 11788

Dear Mr. Sidote:

RE: Redemption Center Registration Number 52-012

In response to your request to register a redemption center, and in accordance with the Returnable Container Act (RCA) and Section 367.9 of 6 NYCRR Part 367, the implementing regulations, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) has registered the following redemption center:

American Recycling 40 Wicks Road Brentwood, NY 11717

Please ensure safe-keeping of this registration letter, as it allows you to impose applicable pick-up and acceptance requirements on distributors and third-party services that you will be dealing with. Please note that the registration number must be included with all future correspondence to the DEC Central or Regional Office.

If you experience difficulties with a distributor, dealer (store) or other party, and would like to make a specific complaint, your first point of contact should always be the DEC Regional Law Enforcement Office. If you have a general operational question, you should first contact the Division of Solid Waste at the DEC Regional Office. The address and telephone number of the DEC nearest you is as follows (please be sure to ask for the appropriate office i.e. Law Enforcement or Solid Waste):

New York State Department of Environmental Conservation Loop Road, Building 40 Stony Brook, NY 11790-2356 (516) 444-0345

A registered redemption center assumes the rights and responsibilities expressed in Part 367. Enclosed is a copy of those regulations and a pamphlet entitled, The New York State Returnable Container Act - How Does it Work?, which provides a concise, comprehensive explanation of the beverage container deposit system.

Please note that you must notify the DEC Central Office at the above address of any changes in the status of the redemption center such as changes in: the business name, business location, business telephone number, ownership or closure.

Please call me or Mr. Albert Muench at (518) 457-8829 if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Donna M. Stewart

Mr. Christopher Sidote 40 Wicks Road Brentwood, NY 11717

Dear Mr. Sidote:

Re: Redemption Center Registration Number 52-029

In response to your request to register as a redemption center, in accordance with the Returnable Beverage Container Act (RCA), and Section 367.9 of 6 NYCRR Part 367, the implementing regulations, the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) has registered the following redemption center.

Registered facility name & address: All Deposits of L.I., Inc.

40 Wicks Road Brentwood, NY 11717

Owner of registered facility:

Christopher Sidote

BROTHER

Operator of registered facility:

Christopher Sidote

Please ensure safekeeping of this registration letter, as it allows you to impose applicable pick-up and acceptance requirements on distributors and third-party services with which you will be dealing. Please remember to include your registration number on all future correspondence to the DEC Central or Regional Office.

If you experience redemption difficulties with a distributor, dealer (retailer) or other party, and wish to make a specific RCA complaint, your first point of contact should always be the DEC Regional Law Enforcement Office. If you have a question of a general operational nature, you should first contact the Division of Materials Management at the DEC Regional Office. The address and general telephone number of the DEC nearest you are as follows:

New York State Department of Environmental Conservation Loop Road, Building 40 Stony Brook, NY 11790-2356 (631) 444-0354 A DEC registered redemption center assumes the rights and responsibilities as expressed in Article 27, Title 10 of the New York State Environmental Conservation Law (ECL) and the applicable regulations at 6 NYCRR Part 367. By accepting this registration, you, as the owner and operator of the registered redemption center, agree that this registration is contingent upon strict compliance with the ECL and all applicable regulations. Additionally, this registration is issued subject to any applicable provisions of local and state laws. It is your responsibility to ensure compliance with any such laws, including applicable local zoning and/or business requirements.

Enclosed are copies of the law, the regulations, and a copy of the "Redemption Warning" sign. This sign must be posted at each redemption area and warns redeemers they may be subject to a penalty of up to $100 per container or up to $25,000 for tendering containers for redemption on which a deposit was never paid in New York.

Please note that you must notify the DEC Central Office, at the above address, of any changes in the status of the redemption center, such as: changes in the telephone number, business location, ownership, or closure.

Please call me at (518) 402-8706 if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Betty-Jo Daly

Islip settles suit over access to financial records filed by nonprofit

By Sarah Armaghan sarah.armaghan@newsday.com @ArmaghanS Updated December 4, 2016 2:32 PM

The Town of Islip has settled a civil suit brought by a New York City-based nonprofit seeking the municipality's 2014 financial records, the group announced.

The Reclaim New York Center for Government Reform and Accountability filed a suit on Aug. 3 claiming the town "stonewalled" ne group's efforts for transparency with public records. The town complied after more than six months, multiple records requests, appeals, legal opinions from the State of New York and thousands of dollars in expenses, said Brandon Muir, executive director of the nonprofit.

An Islip Town spokeswoman declined to comment on the settlement.

The town wrote a check to the attorney who represented Reclaim New York in the suit for $4,012.52 on Nov. 24, according to Douglass Kellog, communications director for Reclaim New York. The municipality also then released the requested records.

When the group filed a Freedom of Information Law request in March asking Islip Town for records detailing its expenditures or that fiscal year, the town at first refused to release the information. Town officials said they would comply if the nonprofit signed an affidavit assuming liability for any "claims" and damages" that arose as a result of the records release, Muir said at the time.

Muir said the settlement "is another huge victory for every New Yorker who wants more open, honest government."

The Town of Babylon and the Southampton school district were also named in this lawsuit. Reclaim New York said at a news conference in August those entities have also not complied with FOIL requests for financial records.

Southampton schools settled on Sept. 1 by paying $4,013 in legal fees to Reclaim New York as well as releasing their expenditure information, according to the group.

Southampton school officials declined to answer questions about the settlement. Interim Superintendent of Schools Nicholas J. Dyno in an emailed statement said the "district is pleased" to have settled the suit prior to the start of the school year.

District officials did not immediately comment Friday.

Litigation against Babylon Town is still pending, Kellogg said. At the time the suit was filed, Babylon Town spokesman Kevin Bonner said the municipality "is committed to transparency and open government, and Reclaim New York's assertions to the contrary are unfounded."

Reclaim New York, as part of its "Transparency Project," sent more than 250 FOIL requests to municipalities across Long Island, including to the two counties and all towns and villages.

Terms Used In N.Y. Public Authorities Law 2986

- c. "Whistleblower" shall mean any employee of a state or local authority who discloses information concerning acts of wrongdoing, misconduct, malfeasance, or other inappropriate behavior by an employee or board member of the authority, concerning the authority's investments, travel, acquisition of real or personal property, the disposition of real or personal property and the procurement of goods and services.
- 2. The director of the authorities budget office, after consultation with the attorney general, shall develop and recommend to the legislature a whistleblower access and assistance program which shall include, but not be limited to:

SUPERVISOR CROCI: Opposed? (There was no response.)

SUPERVISOR CROCI: The motion carries.

COMMISSIONER HOFMEISTER: Item three before you is a resolution adopting a Whistleblower Access and Assistance Program in accordance with Title 12 of Article 9 of the Public Authorities Law.

Again, this is required under the Public Authority Act. It provides a defined avenue for the reporting of a wrongdoing, and protects employees that make those submittals from any retaliation, and provides confidentiality.

To clarify a question, Councilman Senft, I did, again, confirm with Agency counsel that the designated employee in this resolution is permissible.

COUNCILMAN SENFT: My concern, Mr. Supervisor --

SUPERVISOR CROCI: Councilman Senft.

COUNCILMAN SENFT: -- was that we ensure that the proper channel with respect to the reporting of a Whistleblower Act was outside of the chain of command so that an employee of the Agency would not have the reluctance to report same. And I appreciate that.

COMMISSIONER HOFMEISTER: Yes, sir.

SUPERVISOR CROCI: Are there any other questions? (There was no response.)

SUPERVISOR CROCI: Hearing none, I'll entertain a motion.

COUNCILMAN SENFT: Motion to approve.

SUPERVISOR CROCI: A motion from Councilman Senft. A second?

COUNCILWOMAN BERGIN WEICHBRODT: I'll second.

SUPERVISOR CROCI: A second from Councilwoman Bergin Weichbrodt.

All in favor?

ALL: Aye.

SUPERVISOR CROCI: Opposed? (There was no response.)

SUPERVISOR CROCI: The motion carries.

COMMISSIONER HOFMEISTER: Item four would authorize the execution of Power Purchase Agreement with the Long Island Power Authority for the sale and purchase of electric power as generated by the Agency's MacArthur Resource Recovery facility.

PROCEEDINGS AND VERBATIM DISCUSSIONS
OF A REGULARLY SCHEDULED ISLIP TOWN BOARD
MEETING HELD ON THE 20th DAY OF NOVEMBER,
2018, AT TOWN HALL, 655 MAIN STREET, ISLIP,
NEW YORK

(RECYCLING FELON ASKED BY CARPENTER TO DEGRADE A RESIDENT FOR OUTING THEIR SCANDAL)

SUPERVISOR CARPENTER: Next speaker Peter Sedoti.

MR. SEDOTI: Hello.

Ms. Larpenter, Town Board. My name is Peter Sedoti. At the last meeting I was referred to the term animal with recycling.

TOWN CLERK MURRAY: Your address, please.

MR. SEDOTI: 40 Wicks Road,

Brentwood. I have been a recycler for the Town of Islip for over 25 years. I started with Peter Stoli when he was the director, head of the DEC. He introduced me to recycling.

I was asked to come on board. The Town had problems with recycling and I rose to the occasion. A lot of half-truths have been said here by

Ms. Montanino.

She really doesn't know what she is talking about at all. I believe she is a plant to really drag me through the mud. I have always felt I was a son of Islip and I have always done my very best for this Town.

I raised money for pediatric cancer, for the Lustgarten

Foundation, for the American Cancer Society with breast cancer. You never hear about me because I always take -- I'm back stage; I'm not in front.

You don't hear about my company or about what I do. I send packages for the soldiers; Bottles For the Brave is a program that I started. I send packages for started. I send packages for soldiers overseas. I really feel that the Board members are being sold down the river.

I was the best thing for Islip. I'm a recycler. I'm not in the garbage business; I don't have the option of throwing something out.

The only way I would ever make money is by working hard, separating the different plastics, which it's a lot of money to pay help when you have a governor that raises the minimum wage and I have to work off of a commodity that doesn't ever really go up.

I believe Ms. Montanino speaks half-truths, okay. She doesn't know what she was talking about. I had to watch the last meeting over and over again on Channel 18, and every time I watched it, it was like putting a dagger through my heart because I really worked very hard for Islip over the years and I gave Islip plenty of money.

In Islip I dealt with some very noble men, you know, Cesar Trunzo, Mike Grant, Sr., Mike Grant, Jr. I don't think anybody can say anything bad with me in the Town. I worked with the children.

I have a program with Brentwood high school where they raised over $3,500 in recycling.

SUPERVISOR CARPENTER: Your time is up. Please sum up.

MR. SIDOTI: We live in a country where they forgive murderers. I'm not a murderer. I'm not a bad guy. I believe if you give me the chance -- right now you are paying $40 a ton. You never had to pay with me, and I never walked away from you for anything.

SUPERVISOR CARPENTER: Thank you for coming down.

MR. SIDOTI: Thank you. And Pat Montanino doesn't know what she is talking about. She is a plant here. That's what she is.

MR. SIDOTE ENJOYED DROPPING NAMES, BUT DOES NOT CHANGE THE FACTS

On June 30, 2011, Mr. Sidote entered into a plea agreement with the District Attorney's office and signed a Settlement Agreement. In the plea agreement, Mr. Sidote pled guilty to grand larceny and scheming to defraud, and admitted the factual elements of the charges.

THIS WAS ASKED TO BE VERIFIED BY COUNCILMAN O'CONNOR TO MR. SIDOTE AND IT WAS.

Islip Town Board appoints new commissioner for its environmental department

An environmental engineer -- who has previously held two commissioner appointments in Brookhaven and Hempstead towns -- was selected by Islip Town Board members Thursday as its new head of environmental control.

James H. Heil, 75, of Shoreham, will assume his position as the commissioner of the Department of Environmental Control on Nov. 16. Appointed unanimously by the Islip Town Board, Heil will fill the vacancy left by Eric Hofmeister, who resigned from the town Oct. 2 to take a position with former Islip supervisor, now-state Sen. Tom Croci (R-Sayville), as his district director.

Heil, who was commissioner of sanitation in Hempstead from 1984-88 and commissioner of waste management in Brookhaven from 1988-95, according to his resume, will oversee in Islip a total of 104 employees: 74 in the town's DEC and 30 in its Resource Recovery Agency. He will be salaried at $101,000, the going rate for commissioners in Islip Town.

"I'm anxious to get started and it looks like there's a lot of ideas out there and I'm looking forward to being a part of it," said Heil, who has worked as an environmental engineer for Hauppauge-based Cashin Associates PC since 1995. "I'm ready to go."

Islip Town Supervisor Angie Carpenter, who was elected to her first full term on Tuesday, called Heil "delightful."

Five candidates applied for the position and were interviewed, but "no one had the experience he did," Carpenter said.

"His credentials are impeccable," Carpenter said. "He has that municipal experience, so he will really do well for us."

(HE OUIT 2018)

Before Heil's appointment, Islip Town Board members passed a $221,282,681 spending plan for 2016. The only change to the proposed budget was an addition of $50,000 to the Islip Arts Council, a line that was inadvertently left out, a town spokeswoman said.

No residents signed up to speak during the brief scheduled public hearing, which lasted only a few minutes. The board members unanimously voted to adopt the budget, which has an increase that is less than the state property tax cap of 0.73 percent. The average household's town property taxes will go up by $19.15 per year, Carpenter said.

Last year, the town board under Croci passed a last-minute 5.8 percent tax increase, amounting to an average of $25.71 per homeowner per year. Carpenter touted her "transparency" in this year's budget process, including posting the budget online. "There was a lot of work that went into this budget," Carpenter said after the hearing.

ISLIP TOWN—Last Thursday, the Islip Town Board unanimously passed its final 2016 budget, amounting to a total of $221,282,681 and a tax increase of 0.73 percent, which falls under the state tax cap and will raise the average homeowners' property taxes $19.15 per year. The board also unanimously passed a resolution appointing environmental engineer James H. Heil as the new commissioner of the Department of Environmental Control.

No residents registered to speak during the short public hearing, which lasted no more than a few minutes. Afterwards, Carpenter said that the lack of criticism was a testament to the "transparency" exhibited throughout the budgeting process, which included posting the budget online.

"An incredible amount of energy went into this document, and we really have tried to address the issue of transparency," said Carpenter.

Meanwhile, Heil, a Shoreham resident, is set to commence his role on Monday, Nov. 16. He will fill the spot left open by Eric Hofmeister, who resigned from the town last month to work as former Islip Supervisor, now NYS Senator Tom Croci's district director.

Heil received his bachelor's degree from Manhattan College in 1962 and a Master of Science from New York University in 1969, both for civil engineering. He has an extensive resume that includes tenures as commissioner of sanitation in Brookhaven (1984-88) and commissioner of waste management in Brookhaven (1988-95). For the past 20 years, he served as an environmental engineer for Cashin Associates. In Islip, he will oversee a total of 104 employees for the standard commissioner salary of $101,000 per vear.

The DEC responsibilities include running the Resource Recovery Agency, the town compost facility, garbage collection, environmental initiatives, and the animal shelter.

Heil commented on his predecessor, noting, "He's going to be a tough act to follow. He was a great commissioner, and I hope I can succeed and carry forth what he's put in motion."

Carpenter referred to Heil as a "delightful gentleman," noting that he already has prior working relationships with Hofmeister and DPW/Parks Commissioner Tom Owens.

"His credentials are impeccable, and he is very well respected in the environmental community," said Carpenter, who noted that a total of five candidates were interviewed for the position. "He has experience working with a number of people our department interacts with, so I think it will be very helpful going forward. I'm excited, and he's going to do real well for us."

Overall, Heil said that he is excited to assume his new role within the town.

"The opportunity came up and I was fortunate enough to be selected. It's going to be a pleasure working for the Town of Islip. They have a good, solid waste program and I'm looking forward to getting started," he said.

Islip Town appoints new environmental commissioner

Story By: ANTHONY PERROTTA 10/4/2018

ISLIP TOWN—Last week, the Islip Town Board appointed a new commissioner for the Department of Environmental Control. Martin Bellew was named to head the department that oversees the town's handling of solid waste and recycling, as well as environmental protection and animal control programs.

Bellew, 63, is filling the vacancy that was left by James Heil, who retired earlier this week after nearly three years as commissioner of the department.

Bellew, a longtime Rockaway Beach resident, will be paid $125,000 a year for his new post with Islip Town. He is currently an independent consultant, according to his resume, working with numerous engineering, solid waste and bio waste management companies.

Bellew briefly served as acting commissioner for the City of Yonkers' Department of Parks and Recreation, where he oversaw the daily operations and long-term planning for the city's 70 parks and playgrounds. Prior to this role, he served for seven years as deputy commissioner for the city, directing all public works operations.

He also worked for 22 years with New York City's Department of Sanitation, including six years as director of the bureau's waste disposal and solid waste engineering. It was here that he managed and implemented the transportation of all material from the World Trade Center cleanup to the Fresh Kills landfill on Staten Island. Bellew also managed the closure of the Fresh Kills landfill, which opened in 1948 and covers 2,200 acres in the New York City borough.

The new commissioner, who earned a Bachelor of Science in chemical engineering from the University of South Alabama, has also taken on Heil's role as president of the Islip Town Resource Recovery Agency, which provides solid waste management services to the town. He explained that he has a professional relationship with the previous commissioner, as they have both served on the board of directors for multiple environmental organizations, including the New York Chapter of the Solid Waste Association of North America and New York State Association for Solid Waste Management.

As for Heil, the Islip Town Board thanked him for his service during last week's board meeting. Councilman John Cochrane added that Heil always "took the residents of Islip to heart."

The former commissioner oversaw plans for the new Islip Animal Shelter in Central Islip and improvements at the recycling facility in Holbrook, as well as the installation of solar panels at capped landfills in Hauppauge and Holbrook.

Heil previously retired in 1995 as commissioner of waste management for Brookhaven Town. He has reportedly stated that he will not collect another state pension for his most recent retirement.

Bellew is currently settling into his new position. When asked about the arguably long commute from Queens, he said the trip isn't too bad considering previous employment.

In 3 years, the salary went up $24,000

Suffolk DA: 7 arrested in bottle/can recycling scam

Updated August 25, 2009 10:30 PM

A scam to take advantage of the state recycling law by redeeming the same bottles and cans over and over again netted seven men millions and millions of dollars, Suffolk District Attorney Thomas Spota said Tuesday. Spota said the men have been arrested in connection with the plot following a yearlong investigation. The masterminds include Peter Sidote, 53, of Dix Hills, owner of Party Time beverage in Brentwood, and Joseph Luzzi, 60, of Bayside, Queens, owner of Boro Recycling in Brooklyn. As part of the scheme, Sidote sent tractor-trailers loaded with crushed bottles and cans to beverage wholesalers, who paid his company a handling fee of 2 cents per bottle. The wholesalers then sent the cans and bottles to Boro Recycling, which was supposed to sell them to plastic, glass and aluminum companies.

But instead, Spota said, Luzzi sent the same shipments of crushed beverage containers back to Sidote, who would again take them to wholesalers and collect his handling fee. Luzzi and Sidote would then split the profit, Spota said.

The two men sent the same crushed cans and bottles "sometimes twice, maybe three times" through the recycling system, said Spota, who was joined by state Attorney General Andrew Cuomo at a news conference Tuesday at the district attorney's office in Hauppauge.

The operation, which Spota said went back several years, grew so big that Sidote recruited other beverage distributors to deliver already redeemed bottles and cans to wholesalers for a cut of the profit.

Spota said that investigators recovered more than $1 million in cash at the homes and businesses of the seven suspects.

Also arrested were Robert Grady, 44, of East Stroudsburg, Pa., a Boro Recycling employee; Robert Almes, 48, of Islip, owner of Islip Cold Beer Beverage; Kwang Jhong, 42, of Great Neck, owner of S&H Distributors in Central Islip; Joseph Sciara, 44, of Islip, owner of Bellmore Beverage in Bellmore; and Michael Lisi, 47, of Franklin Square, owner of Monarch Beverage in Long Beach.

All are charged with second-degree grand larceny, except for Lisi, who is charged with third-degree grand larceny. The men face up to 15 years in prison on the second-degree larceny charges.

Sidote's attorney, Raymond Perini of Hauppauge, disputed the charges and said his client ran a legitimate business.

Perini added that Budweiser beer distributor Clare Rose Inc. of Patchogue - which provided information that helped prosecutors develop their case - stood to profit by putting Sidote out of business, because then it would no longer have to pay him 2 cents per returned container. "They had monetary interest in stopping Peter Sidote's operation," Perini said.

Officials at Clare Rose did not return a call for comment.

LI Beverage Dealers Arrested In Bottle Deposit Scam

by Jaclyn Gallucci on August 26 2009

Eight Long Island men have been arrested for their involvement in an elaborate scheme to redeem cans, bottles and other recyclable beverage containers repeatedly as a way of stealing millions of dollars from Pepsi, Anheuser-Busch, Miller Brewing Company, their wholesalers and other corporations, Suffolk prosecutors announced Tuesday. And now, the investigation is going statewide.

"It's a profitable perversion of New York's beverage container recycling law and we suspect it's been going on for years," said District Attorney Thomas Spota.

Under the control and direction of 60-year-old Joseph Luzzi, owner and operator of Boro Recycling in Bayside, beverage dealers were recruited to illegally re-redeem bottles and cans. Peter Sidote, 53, of Dix Hills, the owner and operator of Party Time Beverage in Brentwood, is suspected of being the central Long Island broker for the operation.

Each bottle and can illegally re-redeemed, brought in a 7-cent profit. More than $1 million in cash has been recovered, some packed in cigar boxes hidden in the bottom of office paper shredders, according to investigators. "This is Bernie Madoff meets the recycling industry," said Attorney General

Andrew Cuomo, who has broadened the investigation started by Spota to the entire state and issued a first round of subpoenas to companies in the bottle recycling business. "By all indications the alleged corruption being announced today is not limited to Suffolk County."

The bottle and can recycling system is arranged so that beverage distributors pay beverage retailers for every empty bottle or can that the retailers return to the distributors. The distributors, in turn, send the empty bottles to be recycled. Some distributors hire a middleman recycling company to physically collect and transport the empty bottles to recycling centers. Each redeemed bottle is worth five cents—which comes from a deposit that retailers pay when purchasing the bottle and then collect from consumers—plus an additional handling fee of two cents. Under the new "Bigger, Better Bottle Bill," 80 percent of the unclaimed deposits that distributors garner are now turned over to the NYS budget. The state has estimated that about $150 million per year will go back to the state in the form of those funds. On a statewide scale, this kind of scheme could be costing the budget millions of dollars, Cuomo says. "It's stealing from the people of this state," he added. "When you steal from the state, you steal from the tax payers."

Sidote and Luzzi were charged with grand larceny, as well as Robert Grady, 44, of East Stroudsburg Pennsylvania, an employee of Boro Recycling who allegedly acted as the liaison between Luzzi, Sidote and the other beverage retailers.

Other beverage dealers charged with grand larceny are Robert Almes, 48, owner and operator of Islip Cold Beer, in Islip, Kwang Jhong, 42, owner and operator of S&H Distributors in Central Islip, Joseph Sciara, 44, owner and operator of Bellmore Beverage in Bellmore, and Michael Lisi, 47, owner and operator of Monarch Beverage in Long Beach.

Eight Charged In Bottle, Can Redemption Scheme

SUFFOLK COUNTY—Eight men have been arrested on grand larceny charges for their involvement in an elaborate scheme to redeem cans, bottles and other recyclable beverage containers multiple times in a lucrative fraud to steal millions of dollars from Pepsi, Anheuser-Busch, Miller Brewing Company, their wholesalers, and other corporations.

Five of the eight defendants are Long Island retail beverage dealers who accepted, from a New York City recycler, hundreds of thousands of already redeemed bottles and cans to be redeemed again, collecting seven cents for each bottle and can per illegal redemption.

The arrests were jointly announced by Suffolk County District Attorney Thomas Spota, joined by Attorney General Andrew Cuomo.

"The investigation found that, instead of recycling the bottles and cans, Boro Recycling would send them back out onto Long Island to certain soda & beer retailers - their partners in the scheme - who would redeem the cans and bottles again, collecting hundreds of thousands of dollars for another trip through the system," District Attorney Spota said. "It's a profitable perversion of New York's beverage container recycling law and we suspect it's been going on for years."

Attorney General Andrew M. Cuomo said, "This scam siphons money from our State's already overburdened budget while undermining the environmental protection fostered by the Bottle Bill. By all indications the alleged corruption being announced today is not limited to Suffolk County. As part of our efforts, my office has already subpoenaed four companies and we will continue this investigation throughout New York State."

For each bottle and can illegally re-redeemed, the defendants profited seven cents.

"If you multiply millions of bottles and cans by seven cents and it is plain to see beverage companies are paying millions of dollars more than they should in deposit fees, said Spota.

"You have to wonder how much these beverages would cost the consumer when this kind of larceny is removed from the bottle and can redemption system in this state."

Peter Sidote, 53, of Dix Hills, the owner and operator of Party Time Beverage in Brentwood, is suspected of being the central Long Island broker for the scheme. Sidote is charged with second degree grand larceny. Sidote would allegedly receive the already redeemed cans and bottles from Boro and then distribute the previously redeemed containers to other complicit beverage dealers, a strategy designed to avoid detection by law enforcement. What is grand larceny in the 2nd degree?

Theft of property in any form over $3,000 is a "D" felony punishable by up to 7 years in state prison. Similar to Grand Larceny in the Second Degree, this offense is also a very common crime charged in embezzlement or misappropriation schemes and involves any theft more than $3,000, but $50,000 or less.

Josephy Luzzi, 60, of Bayside, is the owner and operator of Boro Recycling. Luzzi is charged with second degree grand larceny. Under his control and direction, beverage dealers were recruited to participate in the illicit scheme to illegally reredeem bottles and cans. Investigators believe Luzzi was involved on a day to day basis with every aspect of the illegal operation.

Robert Grady, 44, of East Stroudsburg, Pa., is an employee of Boro Recycling who allegedly acted as the liaison between Luzzi and Sidote and the other beverage retailers who participated in the scheme. Grady is also charged with second degree. Prosecutors say Grady scheduled the deliveries of the already redeemed cans and bottles to Long Island for re-redemption and on many occasions drove the trucks to deliver the contraband himself.

The other beverage dealer defendants charged with second degree grand larceny and alleged to have participated in the redemption scheme are:

Robert Almes, 48, owner and operator of Islip Cold Beer, 175 Grant Ave., Islip; Kwang Jhony, 42, owner and operator of S&H Distributors, 70 West Suffolk Ave., Central Islip; Joseph Sciara, 44, owner and operator of Bellmore Beverage, 1377 Newbridge Rd., Bellmore, and Michael Lisi, 47, owner and operator of Monarch Beverage, 505 Long Beach Blvd., Long Beach. Lisi is charged with third degree grand larceny.

What is the punishment for grand larceny in the third degree? A person is guilty of Grand Larceny in the Third Degree when he steals property and when the value of the property exceeds three thousand dollars. Grand Larcenyin the Third Degree is a "D" felony punishable by up to 7 years in prison. Oct 8, 2010

Multi-purpose Recycling Facility 1155 Lincoln Ave Holbrook, New York 11741 (631) 595-3422 Monday - Friday7:00 am - 2:45 pm Saturday Closed From a small-scale, pilot project started in 1980, Islip's WRAP program has truly come a long way. It has been said that the WRAP program in Islip is similar to the US Postal Service, in that recyclable material keeps on coming. The WRAP center, located on Lincoln Avenue in Holbrook, processes on average more than six hundred thousand (600,000) pounds of recyclables weekly. In 2005, the facility processed more than thirty-four (34) million pounds of material.

The recycling program in the Town of Islip incorporates a split system of pick up. Newspapers, magazines and brown corrugated cardboard are placed in the WRAP container on alternate Wednesdays, with food and beverage cans, glass bottles and jars, and plastic bottles placed in the WRAP containers the remaining Wednesdays. Bulk Metal items (washer, dryer, refrigerators, bikes, etc.) and all other metal items are collected every Wednesday. Download our WRAP Calendar, which has all the recycling information you need, and keep it in an accessible location so that you may refer to it when necessary.

It is determined that petitioner here was prejudiced because the Division failed to raise the alternative penalty in its answer or at the hearing (see id.) and the imposition of the lesser penalty for the period June 1, 2008 through February 28, 2010 is accordingly denied.

L. With regard to the audit period covered by the second audit (June 1, 2010 through May 31, 2013), the penalties assessed were not based on fraud in the first instance. As such, petitioner bears the burden of proof to show reasonable cause as well as the absence of willful neglect for the abatement of these penalties (see Matter of T.V. Data, Inc., Tax Appeals Tribunal, March 2, 1989). Petitioner did not address these penalties and as such has failed to meet his burden of showing that the underpayment of tax was due to reasonable cause and not willful neglect.

M. The petition of Peter Sidote is granted to the extent indicated in Conclusions of Law J and K but is otherwise denied; fraud penalty pursuant to Tax Law § 1145(a)(2) is canceled and the lesser alternative penalty pursuant to Tax Law § 1145(a)(1) is denied for the period June 1,

2008 through February 28, 2010, and the notices of determination, dated August 26, 2011,

August 27, 2013, and October 1, 2013, as modified above, are sustained.

Recycle Fraud

February 13, 2019

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in concern to the apparent stolen recyclable's money from the Town of Islip taxpayers to known convicted felon Pete Sidote. It has been found that Mr. Sidote was convicted in 2009 for a multi-million-dollar recycling scam. In addition, the Town of Islip has been filing an annual recycling report with the DEC through a company, RIC, owned by Mr. Sidote since 2009. It should be noted that this company has not existed since 2011.

The Town of Islip has refused to provide any information regarding the whereabouts of taxpayer money for recycled plastics and metals. Their unwillingness to provide information suggests that the Town of Islip is knowingly hiding the fact that they have been scamming the town taxpayers and the DEC. Teaming up with Mr. Sidote, Supervisor Angie Carpenter, former Supervisor Tom Croci, town workers Tom Owens, Pete Cacaperdo, former recycling commissioners Mr. Hoffmiser and Mr. Heil each played a role in stealing taxpayer money in this recycling scam.

In an attempt to cover their tracks, Islip Supervisor Carpenter dealt with the firing, resigning, and hiring of participants. Furthermore, Islip Supervisor Carpenter set up a semi-contract to reclaim the money with a company Mr. Sidote claimed to be president of. However, annual reports to the DEC suggest that Mr. Sidote has no affiliation with this company. This false information voids the contract, continuing the issue of taxpayer money to be missing.

Not only are these actions criminal, it has burdened the taxpayers with financial stress. The over abundance of continuous borrowing is leaving ourselves and our children with financial harm and is unforgivable and despicable. The continuous lies to the taxpayers and voters by these Elected Officials is a sin.

It is demanded that Supervisor Carpenter, former Councilman Flotteron, and Councilman Cochrane be removed immediately, and taxpayer dollars be returned along with full prosecution for all participants.

Enclosed there are several prima facia factual documents. Your response will be appreciated.

Dear N

This is in response to your October 1, 2018 Freedom of Information (FOIL) request for facility permits for Party Time Beverage, All Container Recovery or RIG located at # 40-Wicks Road in Brentwood. We have reviewed our records and do not have a record of any permits for facilities with the names you requested. However, we do issue registration numbers to redemption centers and we have records for one active and one inactive redemption center located at 40 Wicks Road in Brentwood listed under different facility names.

The inactive redemption center registration was originally issued to American Recycling on October 31, 1994. The facility was renamed Recycling in Communities DBA Redem Enterprises. On May 21, 2013, we received a letter informing us that Recycling in Communities was no longer in business.

All Deposits of L.I., Inc., on June 14, 2013. Registrations do not expire and remain active until the owner notifies us when they are no longer operating the redemption center.

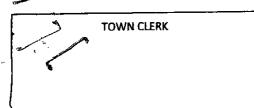

Redemption centers are regulated under New York's Returnable Container Act, Environmental Conservation Law Article 27, Title 10 (ECL § 27-1001 to § 27-1019) and the implementing regulations at 6 NYCRR Part 367.

I have attached the registration letters for both the active and inactive redemption centers, as well as the "6 NYCRR Part 367 Notification Form for Redemption Center Registration" for All Deposits of L.I., Inc. The Department began using these forms in 2012.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

CONSTRUCTION & DEMOLITION DEBRIS PROCESSING FACILITY

A Construction and Demolition Debris Processing Facility is a processing facility that receives and processes construction and demolition debris for recovery, transfer or disposal. Further information and a listing of the registered and regulated construction and demolition debris processing facilities are available online at http://www.dec.ny.gov/chemical/23686.html.

If your facility is authorized to operate a construction and demolition debris landfill you need to submit a Construction & Demolition Debris Landfill Annual Report. If your facility is authorized to process construction and demolition debris and operate a construction and demolition debris landfill you must submit both annual reports.

If your facility is authorized to operate as a transfer station you need to submit a Transfer Station Annual Report instead of a Construction & Demolition Debris Processing Facility Annual Report. If your facility is authorized to operate as a transfer station and as a construction and demolition debris processor you must submit both annual reports.

If your facility is authorized to operate as a recyclables handling and recovery facility you must submit a Recyclables Handling and Recovery Facility Annual Report instead of a Construction & Demolition Debris Processing Facility Annual Report. If your facility is authorized to operate as a construction and demolition debris processing facility and a recyclables handling & recovery facility you must submit both annual reports.

Forms for all solid waste management facilities and a brief description of each type of facility can be found at http://www.dec.ny.gov/chemical/52706.html.

- 9. The Agency will deliver to the ACR facility a minimum of 300 cubic vards of mixed plastic containers per week unless unable to do so for equipment problems, extreme weather conditions, or change of program. It is understood and agreed that ACR shall perform a finer sort of said materials and may market said materials for its own account. It is further understood and agreed that said materials as delivered by the Agency may contain up to 10% non-recyclable materials, which ACR shall be responsible for sorting, removing and disposing of at its own cost and expense,

- Any payments for recyclable materials pursuant to this Article 2 that are not made within 60 days of their due date, shall be grounds for termination and breach of both Article 1 and Article 2 of this Agreement.

14. Nothing herein shall prevent the parties from adjusting the prices paid for mixed plastic materials on mutual written agreement made upon change in market conditions. If, in the event of a change in national market conditions of greater than 10% of the price prevailing at the start of this Agreement, the parties cannot agree as to a revised price, either party may terminate its obligations to the other pursuant to this Article 2, upon thirty (30) days written notice.

15. ACR will maintain the necessary operating approvals from the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation and the Town of Islip.

- 16. This Agreement may not be assigned by either party without the express written consent of the other.
- 17. All disputes arising from this Agreement shall be subject to the laws of the State of New York, and all actions and proceedings with respect to such disputes shall be brought in the Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of Suffolk.
